

Our unique consultative approach sets us apart from other agencies that only focus on scheduling in-home care providers. We understand the immediate care needs of your loved one and can help plan for their future needs. We are able to match and scale our many services to what you need as you navigate the evolving care needs in this journey.

Handing over the care of a loved one to someone else is a difficult and stressful decision. Working with families to keep aging and loved ones safe in their home is our core business, our passion, our calling. We are there to provide the care needed when you can't be there.

Care Planning

Client needs are addressed in a face-to-face meeting. We then develop a plan that is the care directive to our coordinators and caregivers. We collaborate with you to gather your input and adjust the final care plan as needed.

We provide care for short-term rehabilitative needs as well as long-term and on-going care. These plans are living documents that can be adjusted as needs change.

Guidance & Resources

Along this journey, you may need many services like Geriatric Care Managers, Elder Law Attorneys, Home Safety Specialists, and other Senior Care Partners. We can make referrals to vetted providers for these needs. We also help navigate the complexities of insurance for home health care, Veterans assistance, and long-term care policies.

Care Coordination

Along the path of care, we make it easier by providing a range of care services in all the ways that matter at the time you need them most. We are the bridge for providing the level of care your loved one needs at the time it intersects with your busy life.

Tapping into our deep well of resources as your needs change and grow, we provide peace of mind that quality in-home care will continue.

Quality Care

Our caregivers are all seasoned professionals with a wealth of experience. We carefully select the right staff member based upon the home evaluation and the specific needs of the individual needing care. The dedicated team at Home Helpers will help manage the needs of daily living activities for clients with cognitive decline, chronic illnesses, mobility, and neurological issues, as well as individuals who are recuperating from surgery. Throughout their journey we are here to provide the best quality of care for your loved ones.

Safety

Maintaining a safe environment with good nutrition, proper hydration, med management, and social engagement is key to providing quality care at home. Following our care coordination plan to identify change in condition or routine, we adjust care levels as your loved one's needs change.

"Home Helpers provides ready assistance in time of difficulty. The services make my life easier by providing assistance when assistance is not available elsewhere."
